Advisory Council Training Schedule

The Advisory Council on Historic Preservation will be offering 16 open enrollment sessions of its introductory training course, Introduction to Federal Projects and Historic Preservation Law, in 15 cities during 1995. Designed by the Council to explain the responsibilities of federal agencies under the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), the course focuses on the requirements of Section 106 of NHPA, which applies any time a federal or federally-assisted project, action, or undertaking could affect a property listed on or eligible for the National Register of Historic Places. Participants will learn the review and compliance process defined in the Council's regulations, "Protection of Historic Properties" (36 CFR Part 800), and the procedures to follow in order to comply with the law.

In addition to the introductory course, the Council now offers an advanced course through a cooperative arrangement with the University of Nevada, Reno. Advanced Seminar on Preparing Agreement Documents Under Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act is a detailed, expert-oriented seminar on how to prepare the paperwork required by the Council's regulations at 36 CFR Part 800: Memoranda of Agreement, Programmatic Agreements, and Determinations of No Adverse Effect. To qualify for the seminar, participants must have successfully completed "Introduction to Federal Projects and Historic Preservation Law" or have extensive experience working with Section 106 and its regulations.

To register for one of the sessions or to obtain additional information, call the University of Nevada, Reno's Division of Continuing Education at 1-800-233-8928.

An examination of ethical issues confronting conservators and how to resolve them will highlight the annual conference of the 23rd American Institute for Conservation of Historic and Artistic Works (AIC), to be held June 6-10, 1995, in St. Paul, MN. The conference, entitled, Ethics in Conservation: The Dilemmas Posed, will be preceded by a symposium, Gilded Metal Surfaces, on June 4-6.

For more information and registration materials, contact AIC, 1717 K Street, NW, Suite 301, Washington, DC; Phone: 202-452-9545, Fax: 202-452-9328.

Historic Curatorship Program

The Historic Curatorship Program, administered by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management (DEM), is an innovative leasing program designed to promote private support for endangered public properties. With several historic structures in disrepair and with a lack of funding, DEM, under the Historic Curatorship Program, will enter into long-term leases with private curator/tenants in return for their investment in rehabilitating, occupying, and maintaining these endangered properties. To become a curator/tenant under the program, individuals or organizations must submit a proposal to DEM for competitive review. Proposals must detail restoration plans and a re-use concept, as well as financial and other qualifications for tenancy.

For a list of properties and more information, contact Patrice Kish, Program Manager, Historic Curatorship Program, Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management, 100 Cambridge Street, Room 1404, Boston, MA 02202; 617-727-3160, ext. 577.

Historic Masonry Symposium

A symposium on preservation treatments for historic masonry will be held November 11-12, 1994, in New York City. The two-day symposium will provide participants with the latest information on the suitability of consolidants, coatings and water repellents for the treatment of historic masonry. The symposium brings together specialists from North America and Europe to discuss appropriate uses and special care that must be taken in treating historic masonry. The symposium is sponsored by the NPS and the Historic Preservation Education Foundation and the Association for Preservation Technology/New York Chapter.

For registration information, write to Historic Masonry Symposium, P.O. Box

77160, Washington, DC 20013-7160, or call the Preservation Assistance Division of the National Park Service at 202-343-9578.

Historic Properties Owners Brochure

The Interagency Resources Division of the National Park Service has prepared a brochure entitled, My Property is Important to America's Heritage—What Does that Mean? Many answers to questions for owners of historic properties are provided in this informative brochure. To receive a free copy, contact Interagency Resources Division (413), National Park Service, P.O. Box 37127, Washington, DC 20013-7127; 202-343-9536.

Architectural Fellowship Available

The Richard Morris Hunt Fellowship, sponsored by the Friends of Vieilles Maisons Françaises, Inc. and The American Architectural Foundation, offers an intensive six month work/study program that provides state-of-the-art immersion into the latest historic preservation techniques and practices. To realize the fellowship goals and foster a meaningful exchange of ideas between the respective countries, American and French architects share in the architectural heritage by traveling to the host country in alternating years. The recipient of the 1995 Fellowship will be a U.S.A. resident selected from registered architects who are members of The American Institute of Architects (AIA) and pursuing a career in historic preservation.

For information on the fellowship requirements, contact Mary Felber, Director, AIA/AAF Scholarship Programs, 1735 New York Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20006; 202-626-7511.

NPS Clearinghouse Inventory List

An inventory listing of all objects in the NPS Clearinghouse will be published in October 1994. The listing will include names, dates, and conditions for the approximately 1,500 objects remaining in the Clearinghouse museum collection. All of these objects are available for outgoing loan, transfer to other NPS units or exchange with non-NPS institutions or individuals. The objects will also be available for transfer to non-NPS institutions if an amendment to expand NPS deaccessioning authority is passed by Congress. The Clearinghouse is located in Harpers Ferry, WV and is part of the NPS Curatorial Services Division of the Washington office. The majority of the collection consists of 19th to mid-20th-century history objects. The inventory will be sent to all NPS units and regional offices and all non-NPS museums and individuals on the Clearinghouse Classifieds mailing list.

To receive a copy of the inventory, contact the NPS Clearinghouse at the Bombshelter, Harpers Ferry, WV 25425, or phone Kathleen Byrne, 304-535-6202.

Historic Hostels Booklet Available

Hosteling International-American Youth Hostels (HI-AYH) has 27 historic buildings that have been renovated, restored and adapted for use as hostels which are inexpensive accommodations for travelers of all ages. HI-AYH has published a booklet, Historic Hostels, which gives the background of several historic buildings and how they became hostels affiliated with HI-AYH. The booklet is available for $3.00, which includes postage and handling. Contact Hosteling International-American Youth Hostels, Dept. HH, 733 15th Street, NW, Suite 840, Washington, DC 20005; 202-783-6161.

Early New England Architecture Symposium

The Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities (SPNEA) will sponsor a one-day symposium titled, "Early New England Architecture" on October 15, 1994, at the Museum of Our National Heritage in Lexington, MA. The symposium will honor the significant contributions of Dr. Abbott Lowell Cummings to the scholarship of New England architecture and material culture over the past four decades.

For registration information, contact the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, 141 Cambridge Street, Boston, MA 02114; 617-227-3956.

Classical Design Event

A two-day event of lectures, workshops, demonstrations, and walking tours titled, "House, Garden, Interior: Creating the Classical Residence Today," will be held October 29-30, 1994, in New York City.

For more information, write Classical Residence Seminar, c/o Traditional Building Magazine, 69A Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11217, or call the Seminar Coordinator at 718-636-0788.

Archeology and History Meetings

In response to needs expressed by National Park Service (NPS) archeologists and curators, the Curatorial Services Division of the NPS has established two discipline groups to advise the Division on matters related to the curation and documentation of NPS archeological and historic museum collections.

The two groups are the Archeology Working Group and the History Cataloging Advisory Committee. Members of these groups were selected for their knowledge and expertise in the fields of archeology and history from parks, centers, and regional offices within the NPS.

Members of the Archeology Working Group and the History Cataloging Advisory Committee met in September to discuss discipline specific needs related to the development of the next version of the Automated National Catalog System (ANCS).

For more information, contact Jill K. Harris, Curatorial Services Division, National Park Service, Harpers Ferry, WV, 304-535-6202. A report on these meetings will appear in our December issue of CRM.

AIC Membership Director Available

The 272-page directory of the American Institute for Conservation of Historic and Artistic Works (AIC) is available for sale ($53) from AIC, 1717 K St., NW, Suite 301, Washington, DC 20006. For more information and a complete listing of AIC publications call 202-452-9545.

Jamestown Lecture Series

The annual "Preservation & Exploration in the Shadow of John Smith" lecture series is scheduled for Oct. 6, Nov. 3, and Dec. 1, at the National Park Service's Jamestown Visitor Center, Jamestown, VA. This year, the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities (APVA) brings together leading authorities on historical archeology and 17th century colonial American history for presentations on archeological work at the Virginia Company of London and Plymouth's settlements at Jamestown in Virginia and Fort S. George in Maine and on-going research on the development of Jamestown in the 17th century. For ticket information, call 804-229-0412. The lecture series is sponsored by the Virginia Foundation for the Humanities & Public Policy. The APVA is a non-profit preservation organization founded in 1889 and dedicated to preserving and interpreting real and personal property related to the heritage of Virginia. The APVA jointly administers Jamestown with the NPS.

First Staff Members Selected for National Center for Preservation Technology and Training

The Executive Director of the National Center for Preservation Technology and Training, John Robbins, has announced the selection of the initial professional staff for the new Center in Natchitoches,

LA. Mary Carroll joins the Center from the Central Arizona Project Repository in Tucson—an archeological repository serving federal and Arizona state agencies—and will be responsible for the Center's information and technology transfer activities. Frances Gale comes from a career in preservation research and product development for universities and private industry. At the Center, Ms. Gale will handle the training aspect of the Center's mission. Mark Gilberg joins the Center as a conservation scientist and will be responsible for the research aspect of the Center's mission.

The National Center was created by Congress to coordinate and promote preservation research, distribute information, and provide training in preservation skills and technologies.

For further information concerning the Center, contact John Robbins at 601-234-4994.

Correction

CRM, Volume 17, No. 5, Bulletin Board, announced the Paleo-Indian National Historic Landmark Theme Study, but erroneously stated that the project was scheduled for completion in September 1994. The project is projected for completion in either FY 1997 or FY 1998; it is the feasibility study that was scheduled for completion in September. For more information, contact Robert S. Grumet, Project Coordinator, Cultural Resource Planning Branch, P.R.P., Mid-Atlantic Region, National Park Service, 2nd & Chestnut Streets, Rm. 251, Philadelphia, PA 19106-2878.
